Kemi

OFFICIAL BIO

Kemi Sogunle is an award-winning certified professional life and relationship coach, award-winning international speaker and multi-award-winning author of “Love, Sex, Lies and Reality,” “Being Single” and “Beyond the Pain.”

Her Mission: Kemi's mission/purpose in life is to support single men and women who are ready, to find who they are after a broken relationship or divorce, heal from their painful past experiences, learn to love themselves and develop positive and healthier relationship habits.

Her Story: She writes and speaks from a personal place and experience on relationships, healing, forgiveness and purposeful living by moving from pain to purpose. Kemi began her journey to becoming a life and relationship coach after her separation and divorce, which led her to soul-searching. Raped at age 17, she kept this to herself and never healed from it. This led her to looking for love in the wrong places. After her painful divorce, she embarked on a journey to finding herself and she connected to her spirituality while learning to viewing life from a different perspective. She found herself, healed and gained a deep understanding of life and relationships as well as her purpose in life. She shares deep and inspirational messages through her writing and has touched many lives across the globe. She also teaches and inspires others to become the best version of the person God created them to be on daily basis. She believes that living truthfully is paramount to long-lasting relationships and healthy living.
